Stuartholme School's Uniform shop needed an upgrade. In response to the school's requirements, we proposed a comprehensive solution. Our team provided a detailed quote that included the demolition of the old modular structures and the construction of a brand new, contemporary building designed for use as a Uniform shop.

The total investment for the supply, delivery and installation of the new building amounted to just over $400,000. This budget encompassed the entire project, ensuring transparency and adherence to the school's financial considerations.

Our success in delivering this project was not just about the structures; it was built on longstanding, positive relationships with the stakeholders at Stuartholme School. The collaborative trust established over time were pivotal in understanding the unique needs of the school and delivering a solution that exceeded expectations.

The new modern facility not only addresses their immediate spatial challenges but also enhanced the overall aesthetic and functionality of the space.
